

Non Chau Per et surdes

I should like to peck in upon you just this moment, and see what you are doing.
Do you get along comfortably. Now I do think you had better get Aunt Betsey, she would be glad to come and keep house for you, I must not write but a word for the stage has just come.

I am getting along finely thus far, I'll write a nice long letter when we get to Aunt Eliza's

You must not work yourself too hard Mother tells me to tell you not to work in the middle of the day. It is too hot we have to be away at this time, but I think nothing will do me more good than this journey. I hope to come home quite well and sound.

It is very pleasant here at Mrs D's. They have no family but themselves. Old Mr Davis has been carried to the Parson Hospital. He has been a great trouble to Mrs D.

Now be careful of yourselves and be comforted

We shall write of you

With much love to all

Emma

She has written with a miserable pen and wrote just as fast as I could write
