Dear Sister

Your kind letter written on Sunday last was duly read on Tuesday. The temperature here in these old brick buildings, has not been absolutely freezing. My Chum Sammy is willing and is going to start tomorrow morning for Bremen to rusticate three weeks. Did I rightly infer by your letter that Sarah Gray is at your school? If so I wonder if she cannot call up some reminiscences of hate towards your unworthy Bro!

My impression this afternoon that I shall be present at your time and probably Mr. Leavitt also, and not perhaps some others, but further than us two I cannot vouch. For the sake of variety I will write a short letter this time & with the best & kindest regards to all the household & to the friends generally
