

I know not what to do. I wish you would come up and go to Greenfield with me and see what can be done to save this claim from falling upon me, alone. I will pay all your expenses, and for your time. Believe me this has not happened through any carelessness on my part. I have done all I could do to secure you from disappointment. And will pay the debt myself if it cannot be obtained as it ought to be from the firm.

With much esteem

H. B. Hill esq G. W. Eastman
