

a warm and lively interest; so when you you write give my best heart felt feelings You wished me to write you if any of our schools were vacant; I have made inquiries as soon as possible after arriving, there and found the Gooden, the Ell. and the Judkins schools, of which we spoke all engaged; this being the case I thought some school might possibly ~~come~~ be in want of a teacher of which I should hear, and for that reason did not write so soon, but none has come to my knowledge, I should think it to your advantage to teach this winter; could you obtain a suitable situation, where your task w-not be too severe, or your scholars unruly.
There is but one vacancy in this town; that is, a large forward and unruly school, in the both part of the town, <sup>engaged</sup> Have you, <sup>or should</sup> doing, <sup>the</sup> ~~the~~ com-mittel saw Mr. Hanson as we came home, and found things much to our satisfaction, so much so that we have concluded to attend there at all hazards hereafter; we met the other eve, and formed a copy, which we all signed, Mr. Lang, was appointed to write to you, <sup>the</sup> which
