

like to hear what is going on in Wells, for I suppose you sometimes allow your thoughts to wander to sweet home, and imagine what we are doing here, we are doing just what we are doing, when you are here, staying at home &c. No news at all, Our society flourishes finely it meets next Wednesday at your house. Mrs Walker has met with us a number of times, I like her appearance very much, very amiable, Mr Walker's health is rather feeble though better now, than he has been we have had so much damp and rainy weather this spring that it has not been conducive to his health, but in hopes it will be pleasant by and by.

Your friends are all well, and they wished me to tell you, that the things you sent for, they would send by me or, ^{if} they would write for you to get them there.

Remember me to Hannah Clark and Charlotte and Hanna Pope tell them I shall be there soon, tell Hanna Pope that I shall go to Boston in nothing happens, the first or second day of July, and I think it probable, ^{Walter} will accompany me, tell her I shall be very much gratified to see her there at the same time if it is convenient for her, ^{me to tell her,} saw Lucinda yesterday, she wished,

You speak about my coming with you in your letter, you may get disappointed a little, for I suppose, if you
